WELCOME

2015 saw the biggest change in the life of Small World with a move to new premises. Just around the corner from the building at Russell Street we found a new home and a space which offers the two things we didn't have before - a kitchen and a garden. There are two entrances, one for the art rooms, kitchen and library and another for the loft rooms.

There's still work to be done but we're settling in well and over time we even hope to bring the cellar into use as a kiln room. In the meantime the projects have been running - Tune Up Chill Out and Saturday Club in the two art rooms downstairs; Music Speaks, Loud and Clear and Planet Drama in the third floor loft.

Overall it has allowed us to save on our overheads which hopefully means we'll survive into the future and continue to provide creative activities for young people for a long time to come.
