Annual report 2020-2021

We're still here.....

Our Year 2020-2021

A very strange year indeed, we closed our doors at the end of March along with the rest of the country saying goodbye to our long term participants across the Tune Up and Chill Out and Breathing Space projects and not knowing when we would be able to re-open.

We managed to keep contact with the older group through social media and helped out getting arts resources to lots of members of both groups to ensure they were able to continue being creative. We also set up our own Minecraft server and continued our D&D game online, eventually meeting up for walks when restrictions eased.

In June we received the news that the TUCO project was not to be refunded after 6 years running. This left us not being able to cover the expense of the building and possibly having to close. Luckily we were saved by Jane at Keighley Art Hub who offered us space there and at a huge reduction of our annual costs and we moved in July and August with amazing help from our Breathing Space group and parents. We're still sorting it all out but have managed to open to our bubble in October through to December with online and one to one support throughout.

Now based more centrally and with our costs dramatically reduced as well as support from the Tudor Trust over the next two years we feel in a much stronger position than we have been for a long time enabling us to continue to offer support to young people in

FUNDING & FINANCE

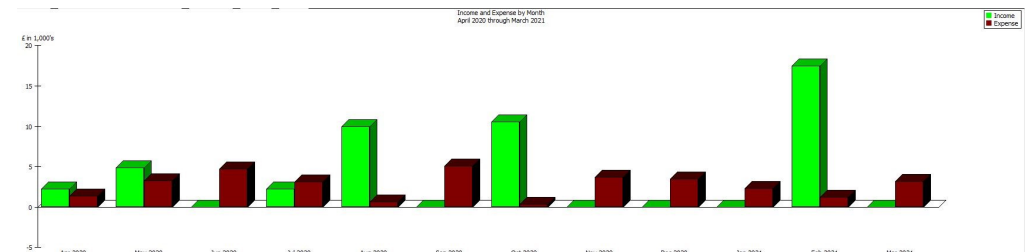

Despite losing our main funding for the TUCO project we have been kept going over lockdown thanks to the National Lottery Emergency Covid Fund and a grant from Bradford Council. From March we have been very generously supported by The Tudor Trust for the next two years
